Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary 15th August

Saturday's feast is a celebration of Mary's life and her assumption into heaven. Mary is a model of vocation and fidelity, a fidelity that demands self-knowledge courage and sacrifice.

For those of us who feel we have no vocation we could learn many lessons by studying Mary's brand of discipleship. Motivation is key. Mary's motivation was to support God's plan. Nothing Mary ever did or said was for her own glory. At the same time there can be few people who could claim to have led a more challenging or rewarding life than Mary's.

St Lawrence

10th August

Saint Lawrence was martyred for outwitting a Roman prefect and for standing firm in the face of persecution. A saint with a modern day message, from St Lawrence we learn to always stand against those who seek to destroy us and persecute us for our beliefs in Jesus Christ and His Church. With great confidence and fortitude, we too can overcome the challenges that stand before us. Throughout the world, many of us are being faced with a threat against our religious freedom. We must stand against such tyranny and battle for our freedoms.

St. Clare, virgin

Tuesday 11th August

The law of God is sweet to those who obey with childlike simplicity. St. Clare, born at Assisi in 1193, died 1253. She followed St. Francis in his life of poverty and was founder and ruler of the Poor Clares. She led an austere life, abounding in works of piety and charity. Patron of television.

TIME TO THINK!

An Instrument of Peace

John Hume put his devotion to what was right above what was best for himself, his life's work was given its ultimate return in the Good Friday Agreement he signed 22 years ago. Hume had a multitude of qualities that allowed him to be a singularly resolute peacemaker during The Troubles but his selflessness was surely the one that shines above all others.

That very same agreement that brought peace to the island arguably cost the party he founded electorally in the years since he stepped back from public life. This very nobility was clear even in his retirement and in 2010 he was named as Ireland's greatest person.

Hume was born in Derry in 1937 and like many of his generation his Catholic faith was at the core of his upbringing. He studied for the priesthood in Maynooth but ultimately returned to his native city to become a teacher after graduating with a degree in French and History.

His career began as an organiser. He founded the first Northern Irish Credit Union and became president of the Irish League of Credit Unions (ILCU) while in his twenties. Throughout the 1960s Hume became a central figure in the city's Civil Rights Movement as he and others sought fairness in franchise, jobs and housing. It was a fraught time in which the movement faced violence from the State and militants from various factions became increasingly active. Hume was literally at the front of tense marches that marked the period and can be seen in a documentary released last year facing paratroopers in the week before Bloody Sunday.

Hume was first elected as an independent nationalist candidate for the Foyle constituency in 1969 before founding the Social Democratic and Labour Party (SDLP) a couple of years later. As violence exploded in Northern Ireland throughout the 1970s, Hume remained committed to politics and was elected leader of the SDLP and to the European Parliament at the end of the decade.

He was elected as an MP in 1983, a position he held until 2005. As efforts intensified to find peace in Northern Ireland throughout the 1980s, Hume continued to denounce violence while also beginning dialogue with Gerry Adams, then the leader of Sinn Féin. The long-time moderate nationalist was criticised by politicians and commentators from both sides of the border for his engagement with Adams, but the Hume-Adams talks as they became known are now seen as a vital step in the peace process.

In the 1990s, Hume was the preeminent voice of nationalism in the north and he participated in various peace efforts that sought to find a resolution to the conflict. When the Provisional IRA called a ceasefire in 1994 and again in 1996, Sinn Féin were allowed to enter the talks process, as were loyalists who had also called a ceasefire. The ultimate result of these renewed efforts was the Good Friday Agreement, which was secured following a tortuous process at which Hume was at the centre. When the agreement was passed by a huge majority in the Republic of Ireland, it was opposed by Ian Paisley's DUP and was passed by a smaller majority in Northern Ireland's referendum. It was Hume who took perhaps the largest responsibility in selling the deal, famously appearing with the UUP's David Trimble on stage with U2's Bono.

In 1998, he and Trimble were jointly awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for their efforts in securing peace in Ireland. Hume's retreat from public life was due to a struggle with dementia, something his wife of 58 years spoke about.

Upon his 80th birthday in 2017, Hume received praise from all around the globe. President Higgins said the "moral architect of an inclusive peace process", and "a man of courage, a committed European and dedicated and visionary peacemaker". Bill Clinton called him "the Irish conflict's Martin Luther King".

As well as the Noble Peace Prize, Hume was also awarded the Ghandi Peace Prize from the Indian Government and a Knighthood from Pope Benedict XVI.

But while Hume's legacy may appear to be rooted in the past, it is not a stretch to say that his ideals may well influence the future.

*Lord Make me a channel of Your peace
Where there is hatred, let me bring Your love
Where there is injury, Your pardon Lord
And where there's doubt, true faith in You*

I hope you are all well and staying safe! We are delighted to inform patients the clinic is now open. While there may be an easing of restrictions based on the current pandemic, we are maintaining strict procedures at Taylor & Conroy Clinic.

HANDING ON THE FAITH

Scripture: Jesus immediately reached out his hand and caught him, "You of little faith," he said, "why did you doubt?"

Matthew 14:31 (NIV)

Has there ever been a time in your life when you needed someone to give you a helping hand? Of course, there has! Can you name some? How about when you first began to try to tie your own shoes, did you need someone to help you? It was probably your mother, wasn't it? She worked patiently with you until you were able to do it all by yourself. How about when you got your first bicycle, didn't your dad run along beside you and hold you up? When you began to learn to read, did you just pick up a book and start reading? Of course not, someone-probably a teacher-helped you learn. Did any of you need any help learning how to play soccer? There are always going to be times when you need a helping hand-even when you are grown!

Today's Gospel is about a time when the disciples of Jesus needed a helping hand, one in particular whose name was Simon Peter.

It had been a long, hard day for Jesus and his disciples. After the disciples had helped Jesus feed more than five thousand people with only five loaves of bread and two small fish, Jesus told them to get into their boat and go on ahead of him to the other side of the lake. Jesus then went up on a mountainside to be alone and to pray. Later that evening, the disciples were quite far out onto the lake when the wind began to blow and the waves began to bounce their boat around on the water.

Shortly before dawn, Jesus went out to the disciples, walking on the water. When the disciples saw him, they were terrified. "It's a ghost," they cried.

Jesus immediately spoke to them: "Don't be afraid! Take courage. I am here!"

Peter spoke up, "Lord, if it is really you, tell me to come to you, walking on the water."

"Yes, come," Jesus answered.

So, Peter climbed out of the boat and started walking on the water toward Jesus. But when he started looking around and saw the waves being blown about by the wind, he was afraid and he began to sink. "Lord, save me!" he cried.

Jesus reached out his hand and caught Peter. "Why did you doubt?" Jesus asked.

So, you see, even a grown-up fisherman like Simon Peter needed a hand from Jesus when it came to walking on the water. You and I may face some pretty rough times in our lives, but as long as we keep our eyes on Jesus, he will always be there to give us a hand.

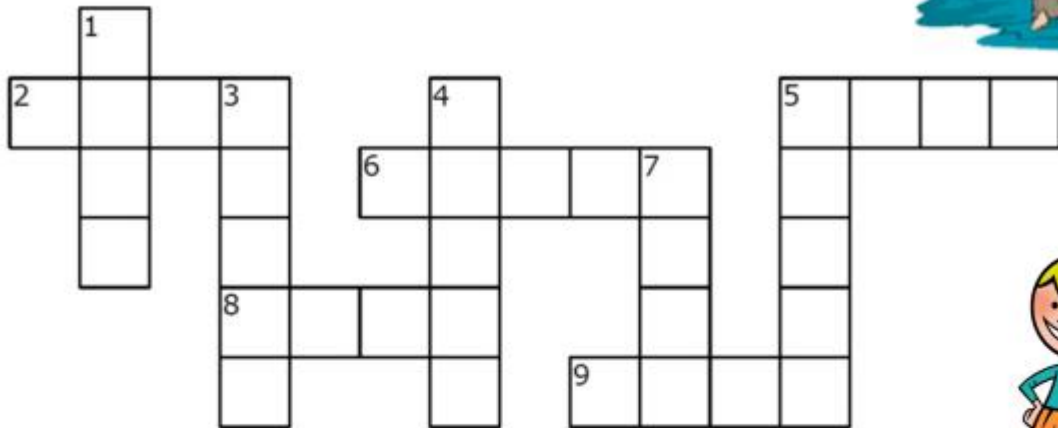

Prayer

Father, help us to remember that you are always there when we need a helping hand.
In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

JESUS WALKS ON WATER

"During the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went out to them, walking on the lake." Matthew 14:25 (NIV)

ABBEYLEIX/RAHEEN NOTES

Adoration in Ballinakill every Friday from 3pm to 6pm.

Raheen Parish Bicentenary (1820-2020) Miscellany: St. Fintan undertook his noviciate as a young man at Terryglass Monastery which was run by St. Columba near Lough Derg in Co. Tipperary following which he founded his own monastery at Clonenagh.

Divine Mercy and Holy Rosary will be recited daily in the Church of the Most Holy Rosary, Abbeyleix, on the Parish webcam at 3pm, commencing 15th August.

St. Fintan's Well, Cromogue: Beautifully situated in one of the quietest and most peaceful locations in Raheen Parish, St. Fintan's Well at Cromogue continues to this day to give to its visitors what it has given to hundreds of generations before - that wonderful sense of tranquillity and inner peace. This is indeed a sacred place. As Bill Kelly (past pupil of Shanahoe NS whose roots run deep in this area) eloquently described it one morning on Sunday Miscellany on RTE Radio - "In this place the silence is broken only by the birds or the wind in the trees. A great place for a saint to mediate."

Many traditions are associated with St. Fintan's Well. Taking a stone from the well and keeping it as a preservative against death by any sort of untoward accident is the most common tradition - and it is one which is carried out faithfully by many pilgrims to this day. Another tradition concerns the one-eyed trout which if spotted in the well will relieve the fortunate pilgrim of any ailment they may be suffering. And, of course, drinking water from the well is common practice. Many locals in past generations when feeling unwell were more likely to make their way here to drink the fresh sacred water than to seek medical attention. The feast day of St. Fintan on 17th February has traditionally attracted a significant numbers of visitors. However, 29th June (formerly a Church Holy day to mark the feast of Saints Peter and Paul) was a particularly significant day of devotion at St. Fintan's Well in times past with pilgrims arriving in large numbers all through the day. Great credit is due to the local families who put huge effort into maintaining the beauty of St. Fintan's Well and its surrounds. One cannot but feel welcome walking through that little painted gate and down the short pathway with well-trimmed hedges on either side and the smell of nature all around - to experience and be enriched by one of the simple pleasures of life.

BIRTHDAY REMEMBRANCE

In Loving Memory of PATRICIA GING

44 St. John's Square, Portlaoise.

4th Birthday away from home; 12th August 2020

Missing You on your birthday in Heaven

Today would have been such a special day, but now it brings sadness and sorrow,
If we could share just one more day, if there was one more tomorrow.

But birthdays are a time for reflection, to look over years past, and we can't believe another years gone by, the time just goes so fast.

But memories of more happier times, in our hearts will always stay, we'll treasure each and every one,
until we meet again someday.

So we'll say goodbye for now Patricia and blow a kiss to Heaven above, to wish you the happiest of birthdays and send you all our love.

Loved and missed by all her loving family.

Rest in Peace Patricia

If you wish to contribute in this way you may do so by visiting our website www.portlaoiseparish.ie and follow the directions to donate. If you wish you may sign up to a regular subscription by this method. This may indeed be the way of the future as it is unlikely we will be back to passing 'the basket' any time soon, if ever.
